

Insider Agency for Professional Guides and Agencies

Insider Agency is your new sales channel: International. Individual. Authentic.

Insider Agency is the first experience network in the worldwide travel and lifestyle field. Sight-seeing, shopping, nightlife or sports: Many places and locations being typical for a city or region are often found off the beaten track and are usually known by local insiders only.

With www.insideragency.com travelers all over the world can find locals at any destination for common activities.

On top of that Insider Agency is a professional platform for tour guides, personal trainers, shopping guides, mountain guides and so on ...to get to the point: For people who share their insider knowledge on a professional basis – just like you do.

Insider Agency offers a highly relevant travel environment

With Insider Agency you can easily and comfortably reach new customers in an international travel and lifestyle network – currently completely for free and without spreading losses.

Present yourself at Insider Agency as part of the worldwide travel network. The friendly and easy atmosphere within our network is the ideal basis for your individual profile: Advertise in an authentic surrounding where travelers meet.

Insider Agency is individual

- Your profile will be highlighted. Therefore tourists immediately know you are a professional guide and may get in contact with you for free.
- Your personal profile arouses the travelers' interest. Contact data and information regarding your charges and fees can be shown in your profile optionally.

Insider Agency makes curious

- Create your own blog: Give your profile a personal touch by writing about your guiding. Photos, anecdotes or simply every-day life in your city: Arouse the travelers' curiosity.
- Present comments by satisfied customers. If a customer writes about your guiding in his or her blog you are integrated in the "With..." field within the blog. Furthermore that blog will be displayed in your blog under the author's name as well.

Insider Agency is international

■ The integration of our service into travel and lifestyle portals all over the world helps you to reach more users instantly.

■ Right now the portal is available in English, German, Spanish and French language. Further languages will follow soon. That is how worldwide travelers can be reached in an international platform.

Insider Agency is free of charge

■ Travelers can instantly get in contact with you for free.

■ Also the professional use of Insider Agency is currently completely for free.

Insider Agency is easy

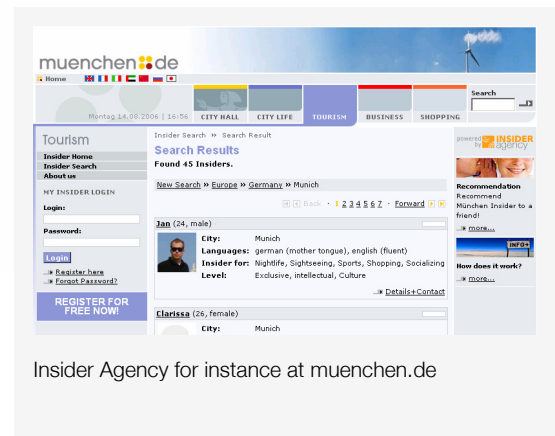

■ Users get in contact with you via the messaging system or the contact data you provided in your profile. The use of the messaging system is for free – users just have to register for free before.

Insider Agency is a platform for tour agencies

■ Agencies with more than one tour guide can also benefit from Insider Agency.

■ As the agency manager you can register your company at Insider Agency. After that any guide can be added to your agency account and be managed within the account.

■ Every guide edits and updates the own individual profile. The agency manager has an overview about the guides all the time.
